THE CURRENT STATE IN THE MARKET OF THE SECOND-TIER BANKS IN THE REPUBLIC OF KAZAKHSTAN

Annotation

The article describes the most recent trends among the second-tier banks in the financial market of the Republic of Kazakhstan. Moreover, the work defines the basic indicators for 1 September 2017 among banks.

The article is prepared based on the results of a grant financing study for 2015-2017. under the budget program 217 "Development of science", subprogram 102 "Grant financing of scientific research" on the project topic: No.4766 / GF4 "Justification the optimal level of living of the rural population of the regions of Kazakhstan in dependence of their economic development: scientific development of necessary indicators and minimum social standards" number of state. registration No. 0115RK01912.

Keywords: financial market, banking sector in Kazakhstan, commercial banks, second-tier banks.

The economic growth can be achieved through operating with instruments that the financial sector can offer [1]. For instance, government investments or cheap loans offered by private banks [2]. Moreover, the banking sector plays its significant role in maintaining the stability of the financial sector [3]. Therefore, the commercial banks have the significance for the growth in the real sector of economy [4].

The banking system of the Republic of Kazakhstan consists of two levels [5]. The National Bank of Kazakhstan is the first-tier banking entity with special legal and financial powers [6]. For instance, the National Bank of the Republic of Kazakhstan is responsible for regulating the currency market and for the emission of the national currency – tenge [7]. On the other hand, all the rest banks are considered as the second-tier ones [8]. The figure below how much money was borrowed from those banks.
